FOR REAL ESTATE TEAMS

In reference to the Rhode Island Mandatory Real Estate Relationship Disclosure form ("MRED"), the real estate licensee who provided you with this Addendum is a member of a real estate team. 230-RICR-30-20-2.2 (A)(13) defines a team as "two (2) or more licensees who: (a) Work under the supervision of the same principal broker to perform activities that require a license; (b) Represent themselves to the public as being part of a team or group; and (c) Are designated by a team name that is both approved by the principal broker and different from the brokerage name of their principal broker."

230-RICR-30-20-2.31(B) states "When a Team is working with a prospective buyer, seller, tenant or landlord, the relationship of each licensee on the team to the client(s) must be disclosed in accordance with R.I. Gen. Laws § 5-20.6-8."

The principal broker of the brokerage appoints the following team members to represent you as a Designated Client Representative. All other members of the same team do NOT represent you.
